

Directions to Susannah Lawson's clinic, Walled Garden Cottage, Bordean Manor Estate, Nr Petersfield, GU32 1EP

Please note: Sat Nav never gets it right, so you'll need to refer to the last part of these directions.

If you're approaching via the M3 (from north or south) or from Winchester:

- Get onto the A272 heading east towards Petersfield (there are various ways to do this – check your map or refer to the route planner at www.theaa.com for more detailed directions).
- Cross over the junction with the A32 (there's a petrol station on the right and a pub called Two for One straight ahead as you hit this junction). Walled Garden Cottage is about 3.3 miles from this junction.
- Carry on the A272 past signs for Privett on your left and East Meon on your right.
- Pass Bordean Farm on your left. Shortly after, after a bend, you'll see the entrance to Bordean Manor Estate on your right. There are a couple of reflective bollards either side to mark the boundaries on either side of the driveway, and a 40mph sign just beyond. If you see signs for Froxfield and Highcross on your left – or start going down a windy hill – you've gone too far.
- Turn into the driveway and follow it along. You'll see the big manor house on your right. The drive then bends round and you'll come to a junction (the main house will be right, the lodges left). If you pause and look straight ahead, you'll see a wooden chalet behind some trees – that's in the garden of Walled Garden Cottage. To enter the property, turn left then right up through some gates at the far end of our garden.

If you're approaching via the A3 (from London or Guildford from the north, or Portsmouth from the south):

- Come off at the exit marked Petersfield Industrial Estate (not the main Petersfield exit) and Winchester – then take the exit marked A272 for Winchester (right on the slip if coming from the north; first left on the slip if from the south).
- You'll pass through the villages of Stroud and Langrish.
- After Langrish, you'll pass a church on your left then start winding up a hill and through some woods.
- At the top, the woods clear and you'll see a large gate and some lodges on your left. This is Bordean Manor Estate. You can't gain entry here, however, so follow the A272 on for another 200 yards or so, then you'll see the entrance on your left, just after a 50mph sign. There are a couple of reflective bollards to mark the boundaries on either side of the driveway.
- Turn into the driveway and follow it along. You'll see the big manor house behind a hedge to your right. The drive then bends round and you'll come to a junction (the main house will be right, the lodges left). If you pause and look straight ahead, you'll see a wooden chalet behind some trees – that's in the garden of Walled Garden Cottage. To enter the property, turn left then right up through some gates at the far end of our garden.

PARKING: as you come in through the gates, you'll see a concrete/grass base immediately on your right on which to park.
